SPECIAL—Two Reel Kalem War Story of the Boer War.

THE BATTLE FOR FREEDOM—Two Reel Kalem
Based on an actual battle of the Boer war, and reproduced by a director who participated in the encounter. The story is of a family, but no love making. The entire family leave England, with the exception of a son, for Kimberley, where they all meet death through the scarcity of water except the girl, Ellen, who later lives among the Boers and when the war breaks out with the other Boer women she shoulders a gun and helps. Her brother, back in England, enters the army and is sent to fight the Boers. Here they meet. There are seven very exciting battle scenes truthfully reproduced. CARLYLE BLACKWELL and JANE WOLFE have leading parts.
The third reel to-night will be:

FATE—Biograph

Crazed by drink, a reprobate tries to get even, so he terms it, with an old friend but the tables turn and he gets the worst of the bargain.

PROGRAM FOR CELEBRATION

Official Program for the First Three Days of Fiftieth Anniversary Celebration is Made Public. High Officials Delay Plans for July 4.

The official program for the first three days of the battle anniversary celebration is announced to-day. Owing to the failure of President Wilson and Chief Justice White to attend the program for the fourth day is as yet unannounced.

July first will be known as Veterans' Day and the chairman of the commission, Colonel J. M. Schoonmaker, will preside. After music prayer will be offered by the chaplain of the Grand Army of the Republic. Addresses will be made by Secretary of War Garrison and Governor Tener, of Pennsylvania; and by the commanders-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic and the United Confederate Veterans. The chaplain of the latter organization will make the closing prayer.

July second—Military Day—will have, as the presiding officer, Colonel Andrew Cowen, of Louisville, Kentucky. There will be addresses by Major General John R. Brooke, of Pennsylvania, representative of the Northern forces in the battle; by Sergeant John C. Scarborough, of North Carolina, representative of the Southern forces in the battle; and by General J. C. Black. Lincoln's Gettysburg Address will be read and music will again be a feature.

July third will be Governors' Day and Hon. John K. Tener will preside. There will be addresses by Governor Tener and Governor McCreary, of Kentucky. The reunion of the Philadelphia Brigade and Pickett's Division at the Bloody Angle will close the exercises of the afternoon and the fireworks will be held at 8:30 in the evening.

All the above exercises will take place from two to four o'clock in the afternoon and will be independent of the scores of regimental and brigade reunions which will be held on the field during the week of the celebration.

On account of the uncertainty about prominent officials being here the proposition to dedicate the cornerstone of a peace memorial on July fourth has, of necessity, been abandoned.

At 4:30 Wednesday afternoon a flag will be presented to the Presbyterian Sabbath School, the exercises being held in the Presbyterian church. A fine program has been prepared. All friends are cordially invited. On Wednesday evening, a reception will be held in Parlor A by the Department President and her staff. CAMP HOWARD OPENED SUNDAY

Sons of Veterans from All Parts of Pennsylvania Participate in Elaborate Ceremony at Opening of their Annual Camp.

Full military ceremony marked the opening of Camp General O. O. Howard, Sons of Veterans Reserves, at the northeast edge of town Sunday afternoon. The exercises were largely attended.

Marching into position, the companies of embryo soldiers from many sections of the state, in full dress uniform, presented a very fine appearance as they formed a hollow square in front of division headquarters where Colonel Stewart and his staff had taken their station. The bunting flag had been drawn to the top of the pole and as Trumpeter McPherson finished sounding "To the Colors," Color Sergeant Stewart pulled the cord that loosed the folds of the flag. The Marine Band of the Second Regiment, Altoona, played the Star Spangled Banner and a national salute of twenty one guns was fired by Battery B, of York, and Battery C, of Greenville.

Colonel Stewart then declared the camp formally opened calling particular attention to the propriety of naming it after General Howard whose services at Gettysburg on the battlefield of the first day are matters of history.

Religious services followed immediately on the conclusion of the military opening. John D. Keith presided and prayer was offered by Dr. J. A. Clutz. A brief address of welcome was made by Dr. Billheimer who spoke of the delight of Gettysburg in entertaining on her historic field the sons of veterans who helped to make possible the result of that battle half a century ago. He called upon them to be true to the spirit of their fathers in time of peace and to be loyal to their country should it ever again be engaged in war.

The sermon to the Sons of Veterans was preached by the Rev. F. E. Taylor, pastor of the Presbyterian church, who spoke of the need of active Christian soldiers in time of peace as well as in war, of the battles to be waged against vice, against political corruption, for the sanctity of the home, and for the cause of religion making a special plea for Sabbath observance. During the service the band played "America" and at the conclusion the entire division marched past Colonel Stewart and staff to "Onward Christian Soldiers." The routine of camp life was at once taken up with guard mount as the first drill.

The camp of the Sons of Veterans is finely situated and laid out in the most approved fashion with a thorough camp equipment. The hospital tents dot various sections and the various company streets are models of order and cleanliness. Regular military routine is carried out daily.

The meetings of the civic body of the order will start on Wednesday morning in Xavier Hall and continue until all the business has been transacted. The Ladies' Auxiliary will meet at the same time.

Tuesday evening a reception will be held in the parlors of the Eagle Hotel and at the same time a dance will take place in Xavier Hall.

EXAMINED CATTLE

Dr. Moriarty Examines Cattle Shipped from Another State.

Last week Robert McNair, cattle dealer, of near Emmitsburg, shipped from West Virginia into Adams county a choice lot of dairy cows some of them the Hereford breed. The cows being shipped from another state into Pennsylvania and coming under the Inter-State Commerce Act of 1905 are required to be examined, and tested with the tuberculin test. The State Livestock Sanitary Board of Pennsylvania instructed Dr. Moriarty to take charge of the cattle and make the examination and test. After the cows were tested, and tagged, they were turned over to their owner, free from tuberculosis, or any disease.

WILL NOT FILL WILSON'S PLACE

If Vice-President Marshall Does not Attend Battle Anniversary, Place Made Vacant by Wilson will not be Filled.

Following the refusal of Mr. Wilson and Mr. Taft to attend the coming battle anniversary celebration, the commission announces that no further effort will be made to fill the position of presiding officer and that it will remain vacant unless Vice President Marshall accepts the invitation to be here, in which case he will have charge of the ceremonies.

Chief Justice White of the Supreme Court has also found it impossible to attend.

Mr. Marshall was invited to come to Gettysburg at the same time as Mr. Wilson. His failure to reply is due to the fact that it is not known whether Congress will adjourn before the anniversary. If it does Mr. Marshall will be here as well as Speaker Clark of the House. If Congress is in session at that time it is probable that neither will be here. It is thought very likely that adjournment will be taken over the time of the anniversary. In fact, the House has formally accepted the invitation and the following committee, headed by Speaker Clark, has been named to be present:

Representatives: Talbot, Maryland; Stedman, North Carolina; Taylor, Alabama; Richardson, Alabama; Jones, Virginia; Estlin, Louisiana; (Confederate veterans); Sherwood, Ohio; Goulden, New York; Kirkpatrick, Iowa; (Union veterans); Graham, Illinois; Sherry, Kentucky; Booher, Missouri; Dixon, Indiana; Mann, Illinois; Payne, New York; Burke, South Dakota; Austin, Tennessee; Mondell, Wyoming; Hulings, Pennsylvania.

In making the appointments, Speaker Clark discovered that there was not a single Union veteran on the Republican side of the House. The speaker shook his head sadly as he commented on this and recalled that when he came to Washington in 1863 there were a dozen Civil War generals and a score or more colonels, majors and captains in Congress.

The Senate on Saturday voted to accept the invitation to attend the ceremonies and Vice-President Marshall will appoint a committee of nine to attend.

Colonel Lewis E. Beidler, secretary of the Semi-Centennial Commission, returned to Harrisburg on Sunday evening to take up with Governor Tener the question of caring for veterans for whom no provision has been made at the battlefield.

It is estimated that several thousand and above the 40,000 expected will arrive, and as the War Department has no funds available it will probably be a matter for Pennsylvania to settle.

Governor Tener will likely be asked to recommend an additional appropriation by the Legislature, which is now in session, so that all veterans can be cared for and the State enter into an agreement with the National Government for quarters and subsistence.

Under the command of Major M. A. W. Shockey a provisional ambulance company of sixty-eight officers and men has established their camp at the corner of Franklin and Breckinridge streets. They will erect two provisional field hospitals, each with a capacity of 412 patients, and three regimental hospitals with a capacity of 150 each.

Should they become overcrowded arrangements have been made to remove such cases as permit to the hospitals at York, Chambersburg and nearby towns. There will be fourteen regulation army ambulances ready for immediate service, and two motor ambulances will also be used by the hospital corps. In addition to this force, it is expected that there will be forty reserve medical officers located in different sections of the camp to render immediate aid to any veteran who may be taken ill.

The large flag at headquarters in the big camp was floated for the first time on Sunday. No special ceremony marked its being raised other than the usual ceremony at reveille. This is repeated each morning as the flag is raised. It is regulation size, 36 by 20, and can be seen a great distance from the big camp.

The scene of the camp lighted is one which nightly draws scores of people to the avenues south and west of town. Almost five hundred large tungsten bulbs scattered over the camp make a most beautiful sight and one which has never been equalled here in the line of electric lighting.

WHITE RIBBONERS IN CONVENTION

The annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, of Adams County, was held in the Presbyterian church in York Springs on Friday.

Rev. Paul Glatfelter of the Lutheran church welcomed the convention and Miss Anna Hooper, of York Springs, conducted the devotional services. Miss Annie Sheely, of Arendtsville, president of the County Union then took charge of meeting, Miss Kauffman acting as secretary in the absence of Miss Bertha Heiges, the regular secretary. There are eight unions in county and six of these were represented in the convention. The five Loyal Temperance Legions in the county sent reports through their delegates and from the reports read it could be seen that all are at work.

The noon-tide prayer was offered by Mrs. Philip Houck, of Gettysburg. Miss Mae Gardner, of York Springs, introduced the ministers of York Springs, Rev. Paul Glatfelter, Lutheran; Rev. F. L. Stine, United Brethren; Rev. L. M. Gardner, Methodist; Rev. Mr. McGarvey, Methodist.

All the delegates and friends were invited to the home of Mrs. Sara Gardner where a delightful luncheon was served.

The opening number of the afternoon session was a duet by Rev. and Mrs. Paul Glatfelter followed by reports from the different departments.

As a special work the Mary Schick Union of Gettysburg have visited the Alms House thirty times and have distributed flowers and potted plants many times, and have given the inmates many dainties in the way of oranges, cakes, candy, jelly, apples, and strawberries in season.

A memorial service for those who have passed away during the year was conducted by Miss Hendricks.

The following officers were elected to serve for the year, President, Miss Annie Sheely, Arendtsville; Vice President, Mrs. Helen Keith, Gettysburg; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Twissden, Gettysburg; Recording Secretary, Miss Bertha Heiges, Biglerville; Treasurer, Mrs. Gove, Bendersville. A temperance recitation by Miss Albert, of York Springs, followed.

By motion the Union decided that "we deplore the act of militants in England and their methods of obtaining suffrage."

A letter of sympathy to the Heiges family in Biglerville on account of the serious illness of their father was voted on, to be written by the Secretary, Miss Grace Hendricks then addressed the convention. She paid a tribute to the faithfulness of the county workers and spoke of pastors appreciating the pamphlets containing the names of those who have signed the liquor license applications and the good it accomplished in their congregations. She was much pleased to see so many young people interested in the work.

Next year's convention will be held at Flora Dale Meeting House.

CUT HIS THROAT

Regular Soldier Tries Suicide while Under Influence of Liquor.

Private Hurley, Company K, 5th Infantry, attempted suicide in camp Sunday morning by cutting his throat with a razor. The wound was not deep enough to cause a fatal result but he bled profusely and is still very weak from loss of blood. Private Hurley is said by his friends not to be addicted to the use of whiskey but he started on Saturday to drink freely with the result that he was soon in the guard house. Sunday morning, wanting more whiskey and being unable to get any, he cut his throat. The deed was discovered quickly and he was taken to the regimental hospital. This morning he was removed to the field hospital where his recovery is expected.

BRYAN IN LINE FOR CURRENCY BILL

Gives Measure His Unqualified Endorsement.

IS BETTER THAN EXPECTED

The Secretary of State Urges Both Democrats and Republicans to Support It.

Washington, June 23.—Secretary of State Bryan in a formal statement warmly endorses the currency bill in every particular and urges both the Democrats and Republicans to support it. He says in part:

"It is a much better bill than I supposed it possible to secure at this time. Conflicting opinions honestly entertained and strongly adhered to here have been reconciled with a success hardly to be expected. I have doubted until recently the wisdom of attempting currency legislation at this session, but my doubts were largely due to the fact that I feared the difficulties in the way would prevent an agreement upon a plan.

"The plan which the president now urges confers great advantages on the banks, while it preserves to the people, acting through the government, all that is essential for the protection of the public. The regional reserve banks are to represent not only the national banks of the district, but such state banks as are willing to put themselves on a footing which will be equitable to the national banks. This is an important provision and gives to the state institutions a protection which they deserve, for they share with the national banks the responsibility of furnishing the banking facilities to the business of the country.

"The great point of advantage to banks—an advantage that ought to make them willing to accept the bill without question—is that it furnishes a currency which they can secure in time of need without having to put up bonds as security.

"The business interests will, I think, welcome this bill as an unalloyed blessing. It gives them through their banks a promise of relief in any time of stringency and it gives this promise without putting in the hands of the banks a power that might be used against the public. The bill is a faithful fulfillment of the promises made in the Baltimore platform."

Mr. Bryan quotes the Baltimore platform in substantiation and closes as follows:

"I feel sure that the Democrats of the senate and the house will rally to the support of the bill, and I am sanguine enough to believe that it will receive a cordial support from Republicans as well."

MYSTERY IN SHOOTING

Burgess and Woman Shot While Sitting on Bench.

Washington, Pa., June 23.—The little town of Houston, near here, is in an uproar following the shooting of Burgess L. E. Welch and Miss Helen Hemphill, a guest at the Welch home, as the two were sitting with Mrs. Welch on the porch.

One bullet struck the burgess a glancing blow on the temple and a second, fired immediately afterwards, hit Miss Hemphill in the leg. Neither injury is expected to prove fatal.

An edict recently issued by the burgess against illegal liquor selling is thought by some to be behind the shooting, which thus far is shrouded in complete mystery. No trace of the man who used the gun has yet been found, although officers have been making exhaustive search.

POPE MAY LEAVE VATICAN

Voluntary Prisoner to Buy Garden Reached by Tunnel.

Rome, June 23.—Owing to the precarious health of the pontiff after his recent illness it is understood negotiations are now going on between the Holy See and Prince Torlonia for the purchase of a pine wood owned by the prince which lies close to the Vatican gardens.

This wood can be reached either by means of an underground passage or an archway, and would enable the pope to enjoy a very much larger area for his walks. This section allows a magnificent view of the Roman campagna towards the Mediterranean.

BOLT FROM SKY NOT GOLD

Farmer Who Thought 20-Ton Meteorite a Nugget, Finds It Iron.

Fresno, Cal., June 23.—A huge meteorite, which landed on the farm of Fred Williams and by its yellow gleam led him to believe he had a twenty-ton nugget of gold, proves to be composed of iron and nickel.

Experts so reported after chemical tests. Williams found the meteorite at a depth of sixteen feet. Jewelers, casually inspecting samples, thought it was crystallized gold.

Sight of Death Silences.

Savannah, Ga., June 23.—As a result of witnessing the fatal accident to Miss Mary Moore, who was run over and killed by an automobile, Captain S. N. Harris, a former police officer, is suffering from hysterical laryngitis, which has temporarily deprived him of the use of his voice. Physicians state that the malady is not serious and that his voice probably will return to him as quickly as it left him.

SING SING PRISON IS CONDEMNED

Commission is Named to Find a New Site.

Albany, N. Y., June 23.—Acting immediately upon the Westchester county grand jury's presentment, Governor Sulzer appointed a new commission to find a site for a successor to the condemned Sing Sing prison.

The governor will confer with the controller on the financial phases of the problem and then recommend to the special session of the legislature that necessary funds be provided, so that the site may be bought and construction work be started before the summer is past.

The presentment of the Westchester grand jury condemning Sing Sing as "unfit for the housing of animals, much less human beings," and "a scandal to the state of New York," was no surprise to Governor Sulzer. It is regarded as complete justification of the findings of the governor's special commissioner, George W. Blake, in respect to the physical condition of Sing Sing.

Warden John H. Kennedy, of Sing Sing prison, was removed from office by State Superintendent of Prisons John J. Riley as the result of an investigation by George W. Blake as a special commissioner of Governor Sulzer.

ENGINE TURNS TURTLE

Prospective Bridegroom and Engineer Killed in Wreck.

Scranton, Pa., June 23.—Two men were killed and a third man was probably fatally injured when a Delaware & Hudson passenger engine, running empty, jumped the track on a curve at Minooka Junction, three miles south of here, and turned turtle.

Christopher Allen, of Carbondale, the engineer, was crushed under the wreck and died while a wrecking crew was trying to get him out.

Jesse L. Decker, an Erie railroad fireman, who was riding to his home in Moosic, was caught under the tender and so badly hurt that he died on the way to the hospital.

Fireman John Jones, of Carbondale, received fractured ribs and injuries to his back. He may die.

The engine was running at a fifty mile clip towards Wilkes-Barre, when it struck the curve. For 200 feet it tore up the opposite track, delaying traffic until late at night. Decker was to have been married this week to a Moosic girl.

CHICAGO PRICES STILL RISE

Meat Especially Climbs. Though the Packers Fill Storehouses.

Chicago, June 23.—Chicago felt the effect of another rise in the cost of necessities.

Accompanying an announcement of a general advance in the prices of meat came a report from Washington showing that every principal article of food except sugar, representing approximately two-thirds of the expenditure for food of the average family, had jumped in price, in many instances more than 50 per cent.

In Chicago the housewife was compelled to pay from 1 1/2 to 3 cents more a pound for meat than she paid a week ago. The retailers pointed to an advance in wholesale prices as an explanation for the jump. Shortage of supply and an increase in the cost of live stock also were said to be responsible.

On the other hand it was reported that the packers' coolers were filled to overflowing with beef. Sheep and lamb receipts for the week showed an increase of almost 20,000 head, but these largely were slaughtered and put into storage.

U. of P. Buys Ancient Glassware.

Philadelphia, June 23.—The University of Pennsylvania has purchased a magnificent collection of ancient glassware from Palestine and neighboring countries, which is of particular historical significance. There are 362 pieces of opalescent glassware of various kinds in the collection, dug from the tombs of Palestine and Syria.

TRAIN ROLLS DOWN A BANK

38 Injured in Wreck on Pennsylvania Railroad.

PASSENGERS WERE PINNED IN

The Tender is Derailed and Four of the Coaches Topped Over Enbankment With It.

Rochester, N. Y., June 23.—Thirty-eight persons were injured, four of them seriously, in a wreck which occurred between Cuylerville and Piffard, on the Rochester branch of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Five coaches loaded with excursionists bound for Bradford, Pa., left Rochester and proceeded as far as the siding called Schuyler No. 1, just south of Piffard, when the tender of the engine left the rails, dragging with it four of the coaches.

The coaches turned over on their sides and rolled down an embankment of about six feet. The passengers were caught and jammed in their seats, and for a moment it seemed as though the loss of life would be appalling. The train crew and the passengers in the rear coaches came to the rescue quickly, and the injured were taken out and laid on the grass by the side of the track until the extent of the catastrophe could be determined. It was found that no lives had been lost, but that nearly every occupant of the derailed coaches had received injuries of some sort.

Eight of the most seriously injured were immediately sent to the State Epileptic hospital at Sonoma, twenty miles to the southward, and a relief train with surgeons and medical supplies was sent from Rochester to bring in the balance.

In the meantime word was spread about the city that a terrible wreck had occurred to the excursion train, and the Pennsylvania station in Rochester was besieged by anxious relatives of the passengers. Little information could be given them until the relief train returned from the wreck.

Then it was found that only two persons were injured so badly as to need hospital care, although a number were given temporary treatment. Mrs. Niblack and Edward B. Brooks were cared for at the general hospital. Mrs. Niblack is injured about the head and back and Brooks suffered a fracture of the right leg and a wrenched back.

When the passengers alighted from the relief train they presented a sorry spectacle. Nearly every one wore bloody bandages or limped painfully away to taxicabs to be hurried to their homes.

It was at first thought that the accident was caused by the spreading of the rails, but an investigation by the company's officials discovered that a truck bolt had broken on the tender of the engine and caused its derailment and the consequent derailment of the coaches.

It was stated that the train was running at the rate of thirty miles an hour when the accident occurred, but was brought to a stop within a hundred yards of the point where the bolt is supposed to have broken.

SNAKE DROPS ON TABLE

Weary of Perch in Tree, Serpent Breaks Up Feasting.

Altoona, Pa., June 23.—Dropping from a big maple tree to the table at which John Schenk, the Altoona boniface, was entertaining a few guests at his summer cottage at Wopsononock, on the mountaintop, a blacksnake broke up the feast and took away the appetite of some of the party.

Because of the heat the table had been spread under the trees on the lawn, where it was cooler, and while the company was discussing the menu the reptile, without warning, fell from an overhanging branch, struck the festive board and landed on a carpet that had been washed and spread out to dry.

Up sprang the diners, and while the women fled to a place of safety the men planned to dispatch the snake, which was four feet long, but Schenk refused to countenance the killing, saying that the blacksnake was man's friend and would drive out rattlers and copperheads.

It is supposed that the reptile had climbed the tree in search of young birds or birds' eggs.

Foreman Dies to Save Fifteen.

Sunbury, Pa., June 23.—To save the lives of fifteen men, Frank Allen, of Sunbury, a bridge foreman, took hold of a live electric wire carrying 2000 volts and died instantly. The carrying power to a crane had parted, and Allen saw that to prevent his men being shocked to death he must grab it. This he did without a moment's hesitation.

Finds Husband Hanging to Bedpost. Lansdowne, Pa., June 23.—J. A. Feckenstrom, a general contractor, of Marple township, committed suicide at his home in Broomall by hanging himself to a bedpost. The body was discovered by his wife. Feckenstrom had been ill for some time, and his illness preyed on his mind.

Four Hurt By Eagle's Fall.

Chicago, June 23.—Three women and one man were seriously hurt when a big terra cotta eagle, weighing nearly 100 pounds, fell 200 feet from the top of the Columbus Memorial building and struck a street car. Thirty passengers were thrown into a panic.

A Real Lottery of Marriage

By MARY T. BRYCE

I grew up with a full realization of the great risks attending marriage. I wished that a husband might be selected for me, as marriages are made in foreign countries, especially among princes. If, however, I had left the matter to my parents both of them would have died leaving me an old maid.

And being an old maid was a horror to me. I wished to be a wife, the mother of children, the feminine head of a home. My trouble was to make a selection of the man to be the masculine head. This may sound amiss, but the truth is there were several men who had proposed to me. They were all good men, but I dared not risk matrimony with any of them.

"I know what's the matter with you," said my friend, Mrs. Seamon. "You have never met a man of your own caliber—one who, the moment you saw him, you would wish to possess."

"It wouldn't make any difference," replied. "I would not marry him. The only way for me to marry is not to know who the bridegroom is to be and be married in the dark. Once tied I would have to get used to it, I suppose."

"I am not sure but you are right. I know such a man as I have described to you. You might be married to him just as you say, in the dark without ever having seen him. He has never seen you and was only yesterday making the same plaint you have made."

To make a long story short, I became engaged to John Chesborough, knowing only his name and what Mrs. Seamon had said about him. We were to be married in a dark room with not a ray of light in it. As soon as the knot was tied the lights (electric) were to be all turned on at once, and after a few moments' conversation we and a few relatives who would be present were to adjourn to another room and partake of a wedding breakfast. There we were to part, not to come together again until mutually agreed. It might be a month, a year or never.

Had I been about to marry a man I knew and was to live with him from the day of our marriage I should have during the engagement been on the border of nervous collapse, especially on standing up to be married. As it was, it seemed to me that I was waiting to make a trip or sign a deed to a piece of property or something like that. And when I went into that dark room and my father led me to the spot where I was to be married I was perfectly indifferent as to what I was about to do.

Perhaps this does not correctly express my feelings. I felt a pleasure akin to gambling. I was like one who expects to draw a prize or a blank. How I did hope I would draw a prize. And, if I should draw a blank, what then? Simply this: If I didn't fancy him I would not live with him. The advantage in the plan was that there was something strong enough to bind us together till we might begin a wedding process.

Having been put in position, the clergyman began the services. At that part where he placed my hand in that of the groom I knew that I should like him. How? There is something in the clasp of a hand that draws us to another or repels us. I felt that the hand clasping mine was a hand of vigor and tenderness combined, and the moment I clasped it I felt a current passing through it and up my arm, distributing itself through my being.

From that moment I was so absorbed that I forgot to make the responses, and the clergyman was obliged to wait till I had done so before proceeding. When the end came and I heard the words "man and wife" pronounced I was in a delirium of anxiety. For the first time I dreaded disappointment, but I had no time to indulge my emotions. In an instant every light was turned on at once. I turned and looked up into a handsome, manly, kindly face that looked down upon mine with an encouraging smile. A clapping of hands sounded in my ears, but since my whole being was engrossed in what I believed to be a prize I had drawn in the lottery of marriage it seemed to me in some faraway theater.

My husband offered me his arm, and we led the little procession of attendants to the adjoining room, where the breakfast was served. It had been agreed that there should be no congratulations, since they might be painful. But we were no sooner seated at the table than some one proposed a toast to "the first and second prize, the former drawn by the groom, the latter by the bride." I tried not to show my relief and happiness, but in spite of all my efforts a continual smile hovered on my lips and a blush burned in my cheek at every happy word spoken to me.

Our breakfast lasted till early afternoon, when one by one the others withdrew, and presently we found ourselves alone. My husband rose.

"The contract, I believe," he said, "calls for a parting immediately after the breakfast."

"Immediately?" I said, looking I know not where to avoid his gaze.

"I leave you to name the exact time."

"Then let it be later. We will visit awhile in the drawing room."

The only part of the contract that was not carried out was the parting.

I do not recommend the plan of my marriage to others, but for me it was an instantaneous and, I may say, a lifelong success.

PEA FOWL ATTACKS BUFFALO IN ZOO
Bird Loses Its Life in an Unequal Duel

Philadelphia, June 22.—Those who visited the Zoological Gardens here on Sunday saw a most unequal duel between one of the buffaloes at the garden and a pea fowl, in which the latter lost its life.

While the fight lasted the struggle for life was a thriller, but the bird attacked the buffalo to such an extent that when once aroused to fury there was little hope for the fowl after it was caught and crushed under the ponderous weight of the buffalo.

There is a flock of twelve or fourteen of the fowl. One of the fowls escaped from a cage and flew into the pen of the buffalo. He attacked the oldest of the herd. The fowl aimed at the buffalo's eye, but missed and jabbed the sharp bill into the buffalo's nose.

With a bellow of angry rage the buffalo charged the fowl. The bird flew out of harm's way. Again the buffalo charged and the pea fowl darted at the bull and pecked him on the side.

Thoroughly infuriated, the maddened buffalo watched its change, and dexterly timing its charge, caught the bird when it came to the attack for the third time, and bearing down upon it with its massive form, crushed the bird to death with its head and then pawed upon it and tossed its body away.

For some time the attendants could not go near the buffalo's cage, but they waited until its rage had cooled and then he dead bird was dragged away.

SENATE MAY CUT DUTIES DEEPER
Show Disposition to Reduce Rates on Necessities.

VARIOUT ITEMS GO BACK
Democratic Caucus Sends Many Items Back to Committee For Further Consideration.

Washington, June 23.—A majority of Democratic senators desire more radical reductions in the Underwood tariff bill than those already recommended by the finance committee and seek such modifications all along the line as will place the burden of taxation on the rich and leave the poor man to bear only his proportionate share.

This policy was clearly indicated when the Democratic caucus sent several important items back to the committee for further consideration. The purpose was either to obtain lower rates or to have the articles indicated placed on the free list.

For nearly six hours the Democratic senators wrestled with the problem of approving the work performed by the finance committee, but there was no wrangling. Neither of the bitterly contested points, wool or sugar, was reached. Nearly one-fourth of the measure was studied and analyzed. General discussion broke loose on many points, but it was not acrimonious or obstinate. The disposition manifested by every senator was to perfect a bill which will give the people the utmost degree of relief from the present high cost of living.

Schedule A, dealing with chemicals, oils and paints, was approved with but one or two changes of minor consequence, but the schedule involving earthenware and glassware provoked more debate.

The clause relating to "carbon for flaring arc lights" struck nearly all the senators as an innovation. This item did not appear in the Payne-Albright or any previous tariff measure. Many thought the novelty might lead to future trouble. It was decided to send the paragraph back to the finance committee for further investigation and report. The precise composition and use of the carbons will be determined.

A provision was desired by several senators exempting stained windows and painted glass from taxation when imported for churches or eleemosynary institutions, and the clause was returned to the committee for such a stipulation.

A large number of senators held that field glasses are necessities, while opera glasses are luxuries and should be taxed as such. Both bear the same duties in the bill. The item was sent back to the committee for investigation.

Through reclassification in the pending measure optical and surveying instruments, telescopes, microscopes and photograph lenses were made dutiable at 25 per cent ad valorem. All of these articles were declared by numerous senators to be necessities. The committee was instructed to review its action and determine whether or not the utilities mentioned could not be placed on the free list.

A long discussion arose over the advisability of placing Portland, Roman and hydraulic cements on the free list. The action of the committee was finally sustained and the articles remain on the free list.

When the matter of imported automobiles was reached in the metals schedule, all present were afforded an option of the committee in basing duties on valuation and admitting those worth less than $1500 at 30 per cent ad valorem was warmly defended by Senator Williams. The general sentiment was that the wealthy who bring in expensive foreign made cars should pay well for that luxury. It was held that the high cost cars should be more heavily taxed and the cheaper ones permitted admission at a rate even less than 30 per cent. The paragraph was returned to the finance committee for further consideration. Consideration of two-thirds of the metals schedule had been completed when the caucus adjourned.

As a net result of the session, few changes, other than tentative, were made in the bill.

Harmony was predicted by the Democratic leaders after the caucus broke up. None of the bitterly fought sections of the bill had been reached, however, and no effort has been made thus far to assert the binding authority of the party caucus upon individual senators. Senator Kern, the party leader, said the caucus would bind all its members upon all features of the bill, except where they had made pledges to their constituents, or felt that they could not conscientiously abide by the action of the majority.

DETECTIVES FOLLOW SENATOR MARTINE
Complains They Track Him and Write on Cuffs.

Washington, June 23.—Senator Martine, of New Jersey, purposes to bring to the attention of the senate this week the fact that he was constantly shadowed by private detectives during his stay in West Virginia as a member of the senate committee investigating conditions in the coal mines.

While the New Jersey senator says the detectives attempted no violence, they kept a constant espionage on him, going so far as to take of his conversation. Upon one occasion, when the senator was talking to "Mother" Mary Jones, Senator Martine says, he noted one of the detectives, who was standing in his rear, taking notes on his cuff.

It is not the intention of Senator Martine to have the senate take any official action against the detectives as a result of the conduct toward him. He simply desires that the public be informed of the methods of this detective group employed by the West Virginia coal operators in connection with the bloody strikes in this region in the past few months.

Senator Martine said the espionage of the detectives has ceased since his return to Washington, but he wants the country to know exactly how he was treated while discharging his official duties as a member of an investigating body of the senate of the United States.

Woman Takes Poison Tablet.
Philadelphia, June 23.—Mrs. Ava de Leon, the housekeeper of a fashionable apartment house at 2127 Arch street, committed suicide by swallowing ten bichloride of mercury tablets. After she had taken the poison Mrs. De Leon evidently changed her mind about ending her life, for she telephoned to the Hahnemann hospital and told them that she had taken the bichloride. She died two hours later.

Pay $25 a Quart For Human Blood.
New York, June 23.—The market rate for human blood appears to have been set here at $25 a quart. In answer to a placard posted in the West Side Young Men's Christian Association, ten hearty athletes offered to part with a full quart of blood at that price for a blood transfusion operation. The successful applicant is a western college graduate.

Prairie fires are a rare thing today as compared with thirty or forty years ago, but when one does get started it is accompanied by the same disastrous results, even if on a smaller scale. One of these fires got loose in Major county, Okla., the other day, and a rancher, his wife and son, who were en route by team to a nearby town, were caught by the fire and burned to death, their charred bodies and those of their horses being found a short time afterward by the roadside where the fire overtook them.

GRANGE CREDIT SYSTEM.
Plan to Be Tried in Pennsylvania Will Be Watched With Interest.

The Pennsylvania state grange has adopted a co-operative credit system which seems to be practicable and workable, which will fit in well with the present banking laws. It appears to be based on the principles of the foreign credit systems of which we hear not a little these days. The plan proposed is as follows: In a grange of fifty members each would pledge his individual credit for a sufficient amount which, taken collectively, would make a credit basis large enough to do the business of that grange on a cash basis. It is proposed to use this collective credit as collateral at the bank, where notes are given for purchases made. An executive committee will have charge of the credits and will pass upon all purchases at meetings of the grange. If a loss should occur it will be divided pro rata among those whose credit has been pledged, no member to be held liable for an amount larger than his pledge. Under this plan those who have pledged their credit pay no interest.

In any successful co-operative credit system some arrangement must be made to help the man who cannot pay spot cash, and one objection raised to any such co-operative credit scheme is that the farmer who can pay cash will not lend his credit to another who cannot. But this is the plan on which many manufacturing are built, and unless all interests are willing to do this the plan will fail from the start.

There is probably no class of business men so chary of trusting each other as farmers. This has been shown too many times in co-operative enterprises of one sort or another, and where this feeling of distrust is dominant no co-operative plan can be successful. There are a few very successful co-operative buying and selling organizations of farmers in the country. But their success is dependent on at least two things—namely, confidence in each other and good business management. The man or men at the head of any such enterprise must know details, understand methods and possess business quality the equal of those who manage great manufacturing and industrial enterprises. The sooner farmers come to understand that farming is a business and that into its successful operation business principles, business confidence and business methods are required the better will co-operative enterprises of every kind succeed.

Michigan's New State Master.
The new master of the Michigan state grange is John C. Ketchum of Hastings, Mich. He succeeds N. P. Hill, who is now lecturer of the national grange. Mr. Ketchum was born in Toledo, O., Jan. 1, 1873, but all his years but one have been spent in Michigan. His grange career began in 1900, and he has held office in subordinate

DETROITERS FOLLOW SENATOR MARTINE
Complains They Track Him and Write on Cuffs.

Washington, June 23.—Senator Martine, of New Jersey, purposes to bring to the attention of the senate this week the fact that he was constantly shadowed by private detectives during his stay in West Virginia as a member of the senate committee investigating conditions in the coal mines.

While the New Jersey senator says the detectives attempted no violence, they kept a constant espionage on him, going so far as to take of his conversation. Upon one occasion, when the senator was talking to "Mother" Mary Jones, Senator Martine says, he noted one of the detectives, who was standing in his rear, taking notes on his cuff.

It is not the intention of Senator Martine to have the senate take any official action against the detectives as a result of the conduct toward him. He simply desires that the public be informed of the methods of this detective group employed by the West Virginia coal operators in connection with the bloody strikes in this region in the past few months.

Senator Martine said the espionage of the detectives has ceased since his return to Washington, but he wants the country to know exactly how he was treated while discharging his official duties as a member of an investigating body of the senate of the United States.

Severe Skin Affection
Cured by Our Reliable Skin Remedy, Saxo Salve.

"I suffered from a severe skin affection so I could not sleep nights. I was almost crazy with itching. I would scratch and almost tear myself to pieces. I tried a great many remedies without relief. When I saw Saxo Salve advertised I decided to try it and one tube entirely cured me. I recommend it wherever I go."—A. L. Morgan, Endicott, N. Y.

Many persons around here suffer so much from eczema that they cannot sleep at night. Saxo Salve stops the terrible itching and soothes and heals the eruptions.

In all kinds of eczema, salt rheum, tetter, barber's itch, etc., Saxo Salve has wonderful healing power because it penetrates the skin pores and destroys the germs at the very seat of the disease.

We give back your money if Saxo Salve does not help you. People's Drug Store, Gettysburg, Pa.

Nature Tells You
As Many a Gettysburg Reader Knows too Well.

When the kidneys are weak, Nature tells you about it. The urine is nature's index. Infrequent or too frequent passage. Other disorders suggest kidney ills. Doan's Kidney Pills are for disordered kidneys.

People in this vicinity testify to their worth.

Samuel Beck, farmer, Orrtanna, Gettysburg, Pa., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills for a long time and they have proven a wonderful cure for kidney trouble. I had pains in my sides and a head ache. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills so highly recommended, I got a box and it didn't take them long to cure me. I am in a position to recommend this remedy strongly."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agent for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Big Surprise to Many in Gettysburg
Local people are surprised at the QUICK results received from simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ka, the German remedy which became famous by curing appendicitis. H. C. Landau states that this simple remedy draws off such a surprising amount of old foul matter from the body that A SINGLE DOSE relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation INSTANTLY.

Don't Cut Your Corns, This Way Better
It's a fool trick to gouge out corns, and dangerous too. Don't wear loose boots—remove the corn by applying Putnam's Corn Extractor. The result is magical. This remedy works wonders, eases the pain, lifts out the corn brings comfort and sound feet at once. You buy a 25c bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, recommended by druggists and sold in 25c. bottles by People's Drug Store.

THE ART OF DRESSING.
There is nothing that bolsters up self respect and creates self-confidence like the feeling of being well-dressed. Certain of correct personal appearance, most men will approach any person or situation with assurance. Conscious of an ill-cut coat or a gaping collar, they often qual before the observant stare of a street urchin.

To dress well and obtain this feeling of confidence is an art. To accomplish it on a limited income requires unceasing vigilance. Carefulness in expenditure obtains infinitely better results than recklessness. "Look before you buy" should be the motto of every thrifty man and woman.

The kind of looking that helps the most in the shortest time is the careful reading of advertisements in the better class newspapers. They will answer for you these vital questions:
What?
When?
How much?

The Only Safe Course.

There is a supreme court justice in New York city who is locally noted for his severity. If he can prevent it no guilty man shall escape, and in his court very few of them do.

Last fall a man was on trial before him for forgery. The prosecution, so it seemed to most of the spectators, failed to make out a very good case. Nevertheless the jury came in with a verdict of guilty.

Later the foreman of the jury was talking about the case with a friend who had heard some of the testimony. "We weren't certain that we ought to convict either," said the foreman. In explanation, "but after listening to his honor's charge, all of us realized that if we acquitted that fellow we'd be guilty of contempt of court."—Saturday Evening Post.

THE GAME OF WAR.

Some of the Things That Are Forbidden by Civilized Nations.

It is not generally realized that the game of war is hedged round by as many restrictions as a boxing contest under Queensberry rules. These regulations, which are under the sanction of all the civilized countries of the world, are designed to insure fair play for the combatants.

When it is intended to bombard a place due notice should be given, so that all women and children may be removed to a place of safety, and every care must be taken to spare churches and hospitals, as well as all charitable or educational buildings.

All chaplains, doctors and nurses are protected in every possible way and are not to be taken prisoners or in any way injured.

Any soldier robbing or mutilating an enemy is liable to be shot without trial, and death is the penalty for wounding or killing a disabled man.

The bodies of the enemy are to be carefully searched before burial, and any articles found on them which might lead to their identification are to be sent to the proper quarters.

Explosive bullets must not be used, and quarter must be given to the enemy whether he asks for it or not. In an attack on the enemy there must be no concealment of the distinctive signs of the regiments, and the use of poison for polluting drinking water is strictly forbidden.—London Answers.

Testing.

"Why do you put your finger on that paint? Don't you see the sign 'Fresh Paint'?"

"Yes," replied the man with eccentric ideas. "But I can't keep from testing it and thinking what a convenience it would be if fresh eggs could be tested the same way."—Washington Star.

On the Stage.

Flossie—Of course, in the theatrical profession it doesn't matter how often lovers quarrel. Gerlie—Why so? Flossie—Because they make up every night and twice on matinee days.—London Tit Bits.

One They Both Love.

George Mabel and Jack's marriage seems an ideal one—such a perfect union of hearts! The Girl—Yes; he adores Mabel, and so does she.—Truth.

A friend who has a fine five acre patch of alfalfa is going to use it as a hog pasture this season, believing that it, coupled with the corn which he has, will furnish a cheap as well as a balanced ration. An excellent bait for killing cut worms is made by mixing one-half pound of paris green with twenty-five pounds of bran. THE "CITY OF HOMER."

Reminders of the Ancient Architectural Glory of Smyrna.

Architecturally Smyrna must have degenerated since the ancient days, for we are told that then the streets were broad and handsome, well paved and running at right angles with each other. There were a number of squares and porticoes and public libraries, a museum, a stadium in which Olympic games were celebrated with great enthusiasm, a grand music hall or odeon, a Homerion and many temples, of which the most famous was that of the Olympian Jupiter, in which the reigning emperor was practically the god worshipped.

The ancient Smyrniotes were inordinately proud of their city. They called it the "First of Asia," though the Ephesians violently disputed this claim. The inhabitants also called their city the "City of Homer," who they claimed had been born and brought up beside their sacred river Meles.

They put his image upon a coin, which they called a homerion, a name given to one of their temples. Enormous fragments yet remain showing what tremendous buildings once occupied the broad plateau on the summit of the acropolis, and as one rebuilds in imagination these wonderful piles he can easily forgive the Smyrniotes of old for their grandiloquent praise of their city and its beautiful crown—Christian Herald.

KAFFIR CORN AND PEANUTS.

H. M. Cottrell, agricultural extension expert in charge of the Rock Island demonstration trains that are being run over its lines in Oklahoma and Texas, recently made the statement in one of his addresses that if the people of Oklahoma would sow 3,000,000 acres of Kaffir corn and 200,000 acres of Spanish peanuts during the present year prosperity would be insured for every resident in the state. He referred to the fact that in a series of tests with Kaffir corn and common corn conducted by the Oklahoma experiment station the former cereal outyielded the latter more than two and a half times and in several seasons yielded heavily when corn was a total failure. The Spanish peanuts yield from thirty to sixty bushels per acre, while the hay that can be made from the tops often pays for handling the crop.

PROFITABLE FARMING.

Three farmers whose cases have come to the writer's attention at random during the past ten days have returned from market carrying checks for $1,800, $4,000 and $5,000 for shipments of hogs and cattle sold. These amounts are not given because they are in any sense extraordinary, but because they do make plain that the business of raising stock is a profitable one. These instances cited are among tens of thousands of others like them. They are simply an index of the splendid resources and wealth of the country and of the brains and thrift of the hardy folk who till its soil and tend its myriad flocks. These checks mean more land perhaps, new machinery for the outdoor work, better educational advantages for the boys and girls and many conveniences and comforts for the home.
